Rose Blossoms Ravished In Area by Thrips

"Hidden devils" are now ravaging rose blossoms in this area, according to John van Barneveld, American Rose Society District Director, but there may be an easy way to curb them.

Van Barneveld, who also is rosarian at the famed Pageant of Roses Garden at Rose Hills Memorial Park in Whittier, says the "hidden devils" are thrips, "not to be confused with the usual green aphids, which are easily washed off."

The rosarian said thrips are particularly rampant now because of the timing and quantity of rain this year.

"As the lush weeds brought on by the rain are drying up, hordes of thrips are seeking out their beautiful sap-filled rose blossoms," van Barneveld said.

"Thrips are hard to see, as they are very tiny, needle-like insects," he continued, "and they are both smart and accomplished engineers. Their strength enables them to force their way down between the petals of a tight rose bud to the cool, protected spot at its heart. These little devils can jump, fly, crawl and burrow—as well as suck, chew, bite and scratch!"

"All this activity severs the veins in the petals, stops the sap flow, turns the petals brown and makes horrible specimens out of what should be beauties."

"To make matters worse, as the thrips enjoy the sweet, cool, life-giving sap in their haven, they laugh at your spray efforts, for they know ordinary contact sprays can't reach them."

After this discouraging thought, van Barneveld went on to describe what he called a new, easy way to rid roses of thrips which seems to be working on the more than 4,000 rose bushes in the Pageant of Roses Garden.

"The new systemic sprays appear to be the answer," he said. "So far, they've worked for us, so it might be worth home gardeners' giving them a try in order to save their rose blossoms."

"The systemic sprays work by circulating the poison in the sap stream of the rose bush. Then, the thrip's first bite is its last."

"If, as in the case of fly sprays, thrips should build up a resistance to the first spray material, you have to start using compatible in-secticides in constantly-changing combinations. This keeps the thrips confused and discouraged until they're beaten."

"Cygus so far has proven most effective in our garden. Using it in combination with Diazinon, Tedion, Roto-Lind, Kelthane and Actidione (one at a time, of course!), we have not only the thrips under control, but also most other pests and insects, such as red-spider and mildew, at the same time."

"Perhaps if everyone would use it on their roses, we could drive the 'hidden devils' out of Southern California once and for all!"

More About Shippey

wherever public office ceases to be a trust the community suffers. . . . And any system which rewards efficiency and inefficiency equally is demoralizing. The same thing is true in industry and labor. In many cases able, experienced, conscientious men are given the same pay hike that far less qualified persons get, and there's no distinction in getting a hike if thousands of others get it. Certainly all persons in minor jobs should be well paid, considering their merits, and experienced persons should be paid more than beginners. But all executives, it seems to me, should be paid according to the wisdom and thrift and conscientiousness with which they fill their jobs and spend the public's money.

These comments, of course, apply to big cities rather than to this one. But when you see that all political units continually seek new methods of raising revenue you wonder how long it will be before we have to pay a tax to breathe.

The Telstar program from Rome gave us grand opera. Now it is urged that we give the world a Telstar view of the Patterson-Liston prize fight. When it comes to cultural exchange nobody can beat us.

HOUSE GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. James Scoville of 272 W. Grand View Ave. have the family of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Styles and two youngsters as their houseguests.

The family, who are from Okinawa where the parents are missionaries, are "visiting here on a furlough."

It may be true that silence is golden, but few are able to convert it into cash.

Flournoy Makes Five Local Rep. Appointments

Assemblyman Houston I. Flournoy today named five local area people as members of the Republican State Central Committee. The committee will hold its bi-annual meeting and election of officers in Sacramento Sunday, Aug. 5.

Appointees are: William H. Byers of Claremont, Mrs. Betty McGee of Glendora, Mrs. Florine Day of Pomona, Ernest R. Geddes of Claremont and Harold F. Roach of Arcadia.

Byers is vice chairman of the 49th Assembly District County Committee; co-chairman of the Lipscomb for Congress Committee, and chairman of the Flournoy for Assembly Committee.

Mrs. McGee is Republican Town Precinct Chairman of Glendora; a member of the board of the Glendora Republican Club, and was associate member of the past State Central Committee.

Mrs. Day was charter president of the Republican Women's Club; is a member of the Young Republican Club of the Pomona Valley, and is president of the Parent Teachers Association of Roosevelt Elementary School.

Geddes served as Assemblyman from the 49th Assembly for 16 years. He is currently serving as honorary campaign chairman for Assemblyman Flournoy.

Roach is publisher of the Arcadia Tribune. He is a member of the Water Resources Board of the Arcadia area, and a member of the board of Arcadia Methodist Hospital.

P. C. College Faces Eight Game Schedule

Pasadena City College gridgers will face a rugged eight-game schedule in the Fall, with the possibility of a ninth game to be added at a later date, according to John C. Thurman, PCC athletic director.

The Lancers will open the 1962 season with a 450-mile jaunt to San Mateo on Sept. 22. Last year, Pasadena upset the nationally ranked Bulldogs, 12-7, in the Rose Bowl.

An open date on Nov. 3 may be filled with the Lancers hosting Moffitt Air Force Base, if the latter decides to play 11-man football instead of 6-man as in the past.

PCC will move to Horrell Field, on campus, for all home games this season. The 1960 and 1961 home stands were in the Rose Bowl.

The full schedule will be: Sept. 22, PCC at San Mateo; Sept. 28, East Los Angeles at PCC; Oct. 5, Glendale at PCC; Oct. 12, PCC at Compton; Oct. 19, Harbor at PCC; Oct. 26, PCC at Pierce; Nov. 3, open; Nov. 9, Los Angeles at PCC; Nov. 19, PCC at Ventura.

For Cats Sake More Cats Coming

A Sierra Madre woman has created a problem in her neighborhood with at least 22 cats she has in a house on Sturtevant Dr., it was revealed to the News last Tuesday by an anonymous phone call.

The objection, said the caller, is not just to the number of cats, but to the offensive odor drifting unchecked to the surrounding houses.

The woman has been asked to do something about the cats by her landlord, the police, and the Humane Society. None seemed to phase her fanatic devotion to the animals, which she reportedly never let out of her house.

Previous to her marriage, reports the caller, she lived alone with the cats on a full time basis. Now she lives in one house with her husband for a while then lives with her feline companions at the other house.

More cats are coming, said the caller who also said that he knows of at least one cat

Grant Requests for Park House Use

Annual requests for use of park facilities were made at last Thursday's meeting of the Park and Recreation Commission.

Those making requests for the Park House were: Girl Scout Troop No. 511, the Los Angeles Health Dept., the Kay 48ers, the Parent Education Observation Play group, the O.A. Boy Scouts S. G. V. Radio Control League, the D.A.R. and the Sierra Madre Art Group.

Requesting use of the Youth Hut were the Mariner Girl Scouts.

The commission granted the requests. A discussion followed on "re use of the Youth Hut versus the Park House." It was brought out that the Youth Hut, which serves Cub Scouts and Brownie groups, is not quite as popular as the Park House, which "attracts more people at the ratio of three to one."

Budget Hearing Aug. 2

The Pasadena Unified School District Budget for 1962-63, as approved by the Board of Education on June 26, will be presented for its final hearing to the public on August 2 at 7:30, and be filed with the Superintendent of Schools by August 10.

In a discussion with Robert E. Jenkins, Superintendent of Schools, he pointed out that comparison of individual accounts with last year's budget would be difficult because of the State's change in the accounting system for 62-63, however with the Board guidance the budget was reduced approximately three million dollars since Budget '61 Work from its first presentation to its final adoption.

Increase in the budget that remained consisted mainly of growth, normal salary increments, and a minimum adjustment of the teacher salary schedule. Jenkins further stated that every effort possible is being made to provide superior education as economically as cost will allow.

The August 2 meeting will be a public hearing. You are welcome and your suggestions and comments appreciated.

Councilman Parks Has Unique Birthday Affair

A Spanish courtyard with piñatas and decorations offering the flavor of old Mexico was the site chosen for the birthday party of Councilman Frank R. Parks given by his wife Marie.

The menu for the occasion included enchiladas, tacos, Spanish rice, refritos, and a Mexican-type salad accompanied by the sounds of a Mexican band, hired for the party.

Besides the Pinatas, there were serapes adorning the courtyard and tables with Mexican design table cloths and Mexican candles.

Some people came wearing costumes, which, reports one of the guests, "gave a strong Mexican influence" to the party.

Among those planning the party were Mr. and Mrs. Manuel de la Torre, who, reports the same guest, "acted as an advisory committee and did much work with the decorations and food."

There was a total of 26 guests. They were:

Father Thos. O'Malley, Father James Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. James Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Maurin, Mr. and Mrs. Dell McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reichart, Mr. and Mrs. George Burke, Mr. and Mrs. John Moe, Mr. and Mrs. Tony De Pasco, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel de la Torre, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Steel, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bartome, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Tumilty, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Danielson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Donovan, Mr. and Mrs. Lad Larcombe, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Al Sommerfield, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carington, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Suttner, Mr. and Mrs. Carvel Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Driscoll, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. ### Teenage Dance To Be Friday Night

A Teenage Dance will be held this Friday night at the Marjorie Green Center at Sierra Vista Park, it was reported by Thomas Butch, director of the Parks and Recreation Department.

The dance will be held from 7:30 to 11 p.m. Admission to this dance and all the other Teenage Dances is $1 for a year, 50 cents for six months, or 25 cents for a single dance. The dances are bi-weekly.

Sawyer Business School Places Students in Top Spots

Secretary to the general manager of a national stock brokerage house; secretary to the production manager of an electronics firm; secretary to the U.S. State Department; personnel manager for a leading electronics firm—these are only a few of the interesting, highly-paid positions in which Sawyer graduates have been placed.

During 1962, the Sawyer placement office in Pasadena received 816 calls from employers in this community. One hundred thirty-five graduates were placed in positions during the same period. Thus, for each graduate there were more than six available positions. The secretarial shortage is nationwide and has existed for many years. Every study of critical skill shortages, listing, of course, physicists, engineers, chemists and the like, also includes secretaries. Mrs. Dorothy Ferris, director of Sawyer School of Business, reports that calls from employers are continuing at the same brisk pace.

Sawyer Schools of Business, with schools in eight cities, is the largest business school in Southern California. The Pasadena Sawyer School is the oldest accredited business school in this area.

In 1945, Sawyer School of Business at Pasadena was accredited as a business school by the Accrediting Commission for Business Schools and by Western College Association. This represents the highest stamp of approval that a school can achieve officially and academically. To Sawyer personnel, however, of far greater significance is the fact that hundreds of em-

Ozella-Westover Vows Repeated At Ceremony In Bethany Church, S.M.

MR. AND MRS. MERLE ALFRED WESTOVER
... nee Sandra Ozella

Sandra Ozell and Merle Alfred Westover, both of Pasadena, wed June 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the Bethany Church in Sierra Madre.

Mother of the bride is Mrs. Joseph Ozella of 3800 Ranch Top Rd. in Pasadena. The bride's father is the late Joseph Ozella, past owner and operator of Ozella Orchids in Hawthorne for about 25 years. He was a hybridizer and has made many crosses that have won him awards.

Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Westover of 985 Vinado Ave. in Pasadena.

Matron of Honor was Mrs. Ray Ellison, sister of the bride, from Pasadena. Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Simon Vincent, cousin of the bride, from Manhattan Beach; Miss Sharon Westover, sister of the bridegroom, from Pasadena; Mrs. Robert Proulx, friend of the bride, from Los Angeles.

Best man was Gary Westover, brother of the bridegroom, from Sierra Madre, and ushers were: Dwight Westover, another brother of the groom, from Pasadena; the bridegroom, cousin of the bridegroom, from Sacramento; Jerry Goble, friend of the bridegroom, from Pasadena.

Organist was Mrs. Ernest Richter and soloist was Mrs. Robert Schaper.

The bride was given away by Ray Ellison, her brother-in-law, of 3805 Edgview Dr. in Pasadena.

Performing the ceremony was Dr. Schaper of the Bethany Church in Sierra Madre.

Flower girl was Denise Ellison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ellison, from Pasadena and ringbearer was Kenny Westover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Westover, also from Pasadena.

Both the wedding and reception were held at the church.

A tour of the Northwestern States including the Seattle World's Fair and Lake Shasta was their honeymoon.

Attending the wedding were 375 guests. The church was decorated with two large bouquets of white glads and mums "with orchid mums intermingled were placed on either side of the altar," and behind the altar, there were six candleabra (42 candles) decked with tropical fern pieces. The aisle was lined with cymbidium orchids and purple pom-pom orchids intertwined with fern.

The bride wore a gown of chantilly lace sheath with pearls embroidered on the scalloped portrait neckline, with long sleeves and with bouquet taffeta full sweep chapel train attached by a wide belt. She had an imported pearl crown headpiece holding an elbow length bouffant veil of English silk illusion. Her bouquet consisted of 3 large white orchids with purple lips, phalopsis orchids, and lily of the valley.

Attendants wore lavender nylon chiffon over taffeta sheath with shorter overskirt with matching shoes and hats and were carrying a cascade bouquet of baby pink anthuriums. The flower girl was dressed like the attendants and was carrying a basket of baby pink anthuriums.

The matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet of dark purple cattleya orchids.

Mother of the bride wore a gown of aqua sheath with beige accents. Her flowers were lavender brasso cattleya orchids.

On September 4, the opening day, a coffee hour will be held in the hall for all school mothers. The room mothers will act as hostesses. The following Guild members will represent the various rooms during the next year:

Calabasas, located in Los Angeles County, is reported by the National Automobile Club to have received its name from the Spanish word for gourds, which grew here so abundantly in the early days.

More Water For Our Area

An additional supply of water has been credited to Sierra Madre, reports Mr. C. A. Barkmeyer, public works superintendent.

Mr. Barkmeyer said the Santa Anita Dam in Chan-try Flats has allowed Sierra Madre 300 acre feet "to be spread" throughout the city. There is more available, he adds, but it can not be obtained now because the dam has to retain a certain amount of acre feet.

This additional supply will mean the city will not have to buy their water, and thus save money for the people of Sierra Madre, says Mr. Barkmeyer.

Despite the supply, he cautions the people of Sierra Madre "not to waste their water" so that they may save more, both in water and money.

He emphasized non-wastage of water "particularly during the summer months."

Toni Maurin

SYcamore 7-9634

If you read the newspapers you may have noticed throughout the past that there seems to be a great trend toward discrediting rather than crediting one of the most faithful branches of our public servants—our police-men.

For some reason, known only to those who serve, they choose to take the path of protecting society. It certainly can't be for the glory they receive or the money they earn, or even the chance they get for promotion in their line of work. Their dedication is to people and the laws of the land, a need to make this country a better place to raise their families, as well as yours.

For this they are labeled "Fuzz," "cop," "screw," "flat-foot," "heat," and many, many more unprintable, un-savory handles all directed towards making them lose stature and dignity.

"Toughs" are not the only offenders. I've heard "nice" people stoop to this sort of name calling without blink-ing an eye. Children think it's funny. Why, when the very ones we turn to in times of distress, are our law enforcing officers. They find our lost lambs, they protect our highways from involuntary manslaughter, our homes from vandalism and destruction; yes, they even deliver babies and save our lives without thought of personal safety when the occasion arises. Their jobs and responsibilities are so varied and numerous it would be almost impossible to qualify them all. They are my friends and yours; they need our support, and they certainly deserve our respect!

When Charles and Phyllis Hardison of Fairpoint asked the Dominic Giangregorios to drop over a week ago Sunday they had no idea of the plans afoot to surprise them. The Giangregorios, along with the Don Hays, had organized a surprise Hardison House Heating party to celebrate with the Hardisons on the event of their settling in their new home. The handmade invita-tions gave elaborate instructions on how the party was to be coordinated in order to keep it as a total sur-prise. They all met at the golf course and came up the hill in a caravan.

It was a champagne brunch featuring fried chick-en, cheese rabbit, melon balls in a fruit basket, sweet rolls and a huge tray of relishes.

They presented the Hardi-sons with a small replica of their new home completely covered with the long green. They had even landscaped the surrounding garden area, on the inside of the house they wallpapered the walls with all of the guests' names. The final gift will be an album containing all of the colored pictures taken that day.

The guests were Messrs. and Mmes. Hal Leffingwell, Bill McClain, Bob Meason, Bill Olson, Forrest Paxton, Dick Perley, John Redman, Gene Rode, Harry Ryder, Fred Ryder, Matt Slavin, Alan Stearns, Bill Taylor, Brooks Thomas, Dan Wilson, Gordon Wright, Brooks La-Boyetaux, Bud K n u d s o n, Ralph Johnston, John Holo-way, Bud Holloway, Bill Holl, Bob Farmer, Dick Es-benshade, Chuck Eldson, John Eggleston, Al Dunn, Linden Crow, Warren Clem-ent, Ken Christianson, John Caldecott, Bic Caffee, Tony Boland, Allan Boal and Brewster Benedict.

The A. J. Hubers of Old House Rd. are back in the fold again after seven glori-ous smog-free days at New-port Beach. They were able to see the former hilllites, the Gorg Clarks, while they were down there.

The George Sanders fam-ily, also of Old House Rd., showed their two children an exciting vacation. They took them back to St. Louis, Little Rock and the Hot Springs area on a visit-ing-the-family tour. They were hard put to decide which was the most fun, being royally entertained as they were, or witnessing the sum-mer storms so prevalent in

Air Raid Tests Made Friday

The "end of the month" air raid siren test was made last Friday at 10 a.m.

The tests started with an alert signal, a steady blast, and followed by the "Take Cover" signal, a series of short blasts.

The local office of Civil Defense requested that any Sierra Madre resident un-able to hear the siren to "please drop a postcard to the office at 55 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., and give the location "of the place where the blasts could not be heard from."

Sylvia and Michael Stolzberg have sold their home on Hastings Ranch Drive. I'm sure you'll all want their new address — 1540 Arroyo View, in Pasadena's lovely Linda Vista area — for your Christmas card list.

When a rival newspaper telephoned me seeking information about a recent meeting of the Upper Hastings Ranch Property Owners Association, I told them they could read about it in this column.

The meeting was well attended by some 115 representatives of the upper and lower Ranch, including those block captains who could be present. How thoughtful of Mike Stolzberg to send his friend and attorney, David Rosen from the west side of town.

Too bad Bill Jones felt it necessary to tender his resignation as association president. New officers are: Harry Withrow, president; Ed Messinger, vice president; Marilyn Pursley, secretary-treasurer. George Deaderick, Bob Dumas, Sy Epstein, and Bob Snetinger will serve as members of the board of directors.

I'm happy to report that the Association appears stronger than ever before. The UNITED and FRIENDLY SPIRIT which annually creates one of the Southland's most outstanding holiday attractions continue to prevail.

I'll report next week on the Association's POSITIVE plan to keep Hastings Ranch a most desirable place to buy and own property.

Flood Control

possible assessment district for your area has been called for the date shown at the top of this letter at 8 p.m. in the Council Chambers of the Sierra Madre City Hall. It is not the intention of the City Council that under any program the entire cost would be borne by the assessment district. On the other hand, with the needs totaling in excess of $125,000 amounts as low as $10 per lot which have been discussed by some property owners, and which amount would only raise $2500 to $3000, would not appear to be practical.

If you receive this notice, it indicates that you are in the preliminary assessment

Dear Editor:

Please print the following in a prominent place in the newspaper. Thank you so much.

Regarding tax on flooded property for all property owners to pay.

My late husband did quite a bit of building after the war here and was many times offered land in the upper areas. He looked over these different properties at different times, then would go to the city hall and look up the records. They were recorded as flooded and fire areas, dry and wet years.

As a builder he could not get his own consent to build on any of them.

Imagine our surprise when builders began later to be given permits to build on these very areas!

It seems clear enough that all this argument is entirely between the gullible purchasers and the ones who gave out the permits O.K. in the city hall.

To try to have the rest of the taxpayers make up for another's mistake is like making up his investment in any venture that does not turn out right.

district as outlined, and therefore should be interested in the meeting.

Very truly yours,
Lawrence C. Bevington
City Administrator

Taxpayers not in the above mentioned areas can have their hearing and discussion, if they have any, at the regular meeting of the Council on August 14. All persons of the areas above mentioned are encouraged to be present.

night for Las Sequitas annual summer party. Mesdames William Murphy, Larry Barr and Alfred Tompkins are in charge of arrangements. Couples expecting to attend include Messrs. and Mmes. Don Alsop, (she's the current director); Henry Asher, Donald Clark, Ralph Judd, John Moe, Edward Lieber, Al Pruitt, William Pursley, Cranor Richter, Neil Rowley, Gordon Templar, Brooks Thomas, Ernest Wenberg and Mrs. Hazel Gittinger. As many of you know, Las Sequitas is the Cystic Fibrosis workshop group. The gals are busily creating decorations for CF Guild's annual "September Affair" — truly one of the loveliest benefits about town!

There was a fabulous celebration at the Franklin Williams home in Sierra Madre on July 22. Despite the heat, 105 guests arrived from distant places, (including New York), to greet Mr. and Mrs. Gerald P. Cross on their silver wedding anniversary. There was a beautiful blue manzanita tree decorated with clusters of silver dollars, and lavish floral decorations of Grecian design in white, blue and silver. Hosts for this special event were Mr. and Mrs. James R. Cross, of Arcadia, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Williams. Guests from Pasadena included the William Mohns, N. R. Webers, Jack Sloans, Rob Ryons, B. A. Rogers, Robert Henkers, Frank Felty, and John R. Cross. From Arcadia, the Harry Paddocks and Stewart Greens. From Altadena, the Gerald Freemans and Edward Greens. Also, the Daniel H. Rogers, former Sierra Madreans now living in Corona del Mar.

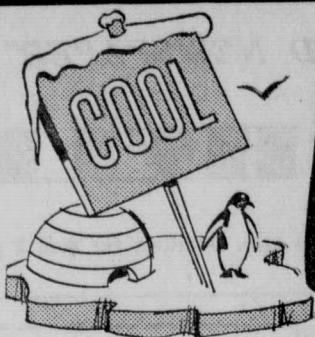

Alice and Jim Winslow of Sierra Madre have returned from their third European jaunt in eighteen months. What a delightful way to combine business and pleasure! It was daughter Barbara's second trip. I understand that when Barbara and Mary Lee Marr of Pasadena happened to meet on a tram in sunny Italy they didn't stop chattering for 24 hours. After three trips Alice still raves about the Londoner's sense of humor, and the Tivoli Gardens in Copenhagen. They were in Paris on Bastille Day and saw General DeGaulle leading the parade, extremely well guarded by a few thousand troops!

Another Sierra Madrean off to far-away places is Millie Lou Wade. After stopovers in Washington and New York, she flew to Haiti and San Juan, Puerto Rico where she's visiting friends. She'll return via Miami.

There's a new baby on Cartwright! Deverie Suzanne Roos was born on July 2 to Marge and David Roos. Big brother, Brad is five years old.

The Don Kates family returned from a visit to the World's Fair via Yellowstone and Las Vegas.

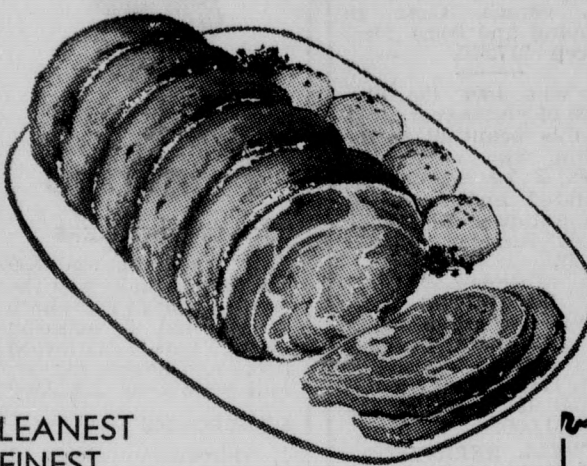

Dr. and Mrs. Philip Winsor of Daveric arrived home from one vacation just in time to take off on another. First they took their children, Stephen 10 and Debra 7, to the Fair, where the whole family was impressed by the scientific exhibits and the Space Needle. Next through the San Juan Islands to Victoria and Vancouver. Then down the Oregon coast, "whose beauty doesn't get the credit it deserves," says Jane. Last weekend, Jane and Philip sailed in the Southern California Yachting Association race at San Diego. Now Jane and the youngsters are off to the Balboa Yacht Club for the month of August, where the children will take part in the club's junior program. Sounds like a border to border vacation!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
The next time Don Jackson and Tony Pinelli get together to try to change the zoning on Sierra Madre Blvd., they should use their heads. Why didn't they apply for a change between Lima and Sunnyside instead of stopping at Park.
It's pretty obvious isn't it? It might have carried it if it were to Sunnyside as a Western border. Oh! Don when will you learn.

—MRS. S. FROHMERU

July 24, 1962

In letters to the Editor last week I read one written by Ronald Levy and I felt a little sick.
Pride in being a United States citizen can be manifested in more ways than one, and there have to be the small ways with the big. The flag signifies the fine things of being a North American. It makes one feel good to see it displayed in his city.
Living here in Mexico we experience that good feeling many times when we see the flag of the United States displayed. We have taught our boys that they must respect the flag of the country in which they are guests. But it is the sight of our own flag that makes our hearts beat a little faster, makes us stand a little straighter, makes us feel the pride of being a United States citizen.

I have no doubt that the amount will be raised because there are many Sierra Madreans, and Pasadenaans who shop there who will be willing to convince others that it is a good thing. It is usually the same person who helps out on a project like this who has been instrumental in making other—perhaps more important—projects a success.

—DOOD BAKER.
Mexico City.

Man invented a great labor-saving device centuries ago when he found he could put off today's work until tomorrow.

Learn self-discipline—the fellow who cannot rule himself has no chance of ruling others.

POLITICAL PARADE

By Clem Whitaker, Jr.

When the ill-starred "medicare" program took the long count in the Senate last week, President Kennedy learned, as have Presidents before him, that the Congress can't be whipped into line even by the punching power of a President.

Kennedy and Company, according to Washington observers, brought to bear on the Senate every bit of political power known to man to queue out an affirmative vote on "medicare." It didn't work. The reasons were many.

Grandstand Play

First, every Senator was aware that the administration's attempt to get the Senate to vote the program was a grandstand play directed to the November elections—because the bill hadn't the chance of the proverbial snowball in the House. The fact led to Senate resentment.

Secondly, and probably most importantly, the administration hasn't convinced the Senate or House that the "medicare" proposal is sound, or necessary.

Thirdly, legislative bodies never take kindly to administration pressure. The storm trooper tactics nearly always bring defeat.

On the heels of defeat in the Senate, however, Kennedy has sounded the purge call. The threat is on the line that Kennedy will campaign against those who defeated him. FDR tried purges, too, but even with his tremendous popularity with the voters, the purge attempts didn't work and it is doubtful that Kennedy will be successful in purging anyone, either.

Purge Threat

The "medicare" issue, though obviously will be in the November elections now that the President has made his threat. "Return in November a Congress that will support a program like medical care for the aged," Kennedy has stated. Unaided is the fact that every Senator voting, the American Medical Association, and every opponent of Kennedy's proposal also favor medical care for the needy aged. It just so happens that a number of people consider the Kennedy program ill-conceived and believe that present voluntary health insurance programs, plus the existing Kerr-Mills program, can do the job.

Kennedy's threats of ballot attack on his "medicare" opponents mean that the administration may get little of the rest of its program through Congress this year. A further problem the President will have to ponder in deciding whether to live with the fact that there is a legislative as well as executive branch of government, is that if the attempted November purge fails the problems with Congress will increase.

Other Presidents have come to realize that Congress may be right, too, some of the time.

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

August 7, 1962

That the city pay the expense of maintaining the electric signs on the Foot-hill Boulevard and the lights along Baldwin and Sierra Madre Avenues between the Boulevard and Live Oak Avenue was the request made by the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting of the board of trustees last week. After considerable discussion pro and con, City Attorney Baker rendered an opinion that the city trustees could legally pay for maintaining the signs by an advertising appropriation but that it would be illegal for the city to expend money for street lights outside city limits.

Earlier construction of Los Angeles county's huge $25,000,000 dam in the San Gabriel canyon seems a probable result of the action of county supervisors in refusing to modify the original plans or to attempt to combine the flood control project with storage facilities for water from the Colorado River or any other source.

Many things seem to be moving toward realization of long deferred hopes for extension of Central Avenue for a through connection between Sierra Madre, Lamada Park and Pasadena, according to J. N. Hawks, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce road committee.

It is expected Sierra Madre will be well represented among the 500 students to be enrolled at Pasadena junior college when the second year of the institution's academic existence begins in September.

July 29, 1963

Sierra Madre's community Victory Garden Fair on August 6 will be held at the grammar school. The entries will be confined to local gardens and orchards, meaning that proposals to throw truly rural atmosphere about the event by including chickens, rabbits, goats and hogs among the exhibits have been vetoed.

The elaborate system of infra-red lighting equipment on the model citrus orchard of the East Orange Grove estate of General Edward Clinton Young is down at Camp Santo. General Young donated it to the camp and the hundreds of poles, many thousands of feet of wire and other valuable equipment were taken down by the boys of the Signal Corps and set up at the camp which is coming to be considered more and more as a permanent institution.

Young women of the Congregational Church will hold their annual Consero carnival in Pritchard Hall, Friday, Aug. 6, at 7 p.m. All kinds of booths "just for fun" will be set up there. There will be a fish pond and a fortune teller, and other accessories of a carnival. Movies will be shown, an orchestra will be provided and there will be dancing. Hot dogs, lemonade, and popcorn will be served, and the public is cordially invited to be present. There will be no charge at the door.

The fate of Sierra Madre's big red cars (street cars) was being argued in Los Angeles today — with Pacific Electric saying they should go and City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn saying they should stay along with some improved service.

Cornyn was one of more than a dozen city attorneys appearing before the State Public Utilities Commission with orders from their city councils to fight the P.E.'s proposal that 13 of its 19 rail lines be eliminated and buses substituted on nine.

City workmen removed the "dip" from the intersection of Churchill and Mountain Trail streets last week, Director of Public Works William Taye reported.

A proposal to install parking meters received an emphatic "thumbs down" by Sierra Madre merchants, Chamber of Commerce President Al Morgan revealed last week.

The school board this week voted to proceed immediately with condemnation proceedings to acquire the Minnie B. Davis property on Grand View Avenue east of Hermosa.

A Board of Directors meeting has been scheduled by the Chamber of Commerce for Monday, Aug. 5, at 8 p.m. The directors will consider the selection of five new board members. At a meeting of the board held July 14, it was decided to increase the size of the board from 10 to 15 members.

July 30, 1953

Residents in the neighborhood of North Sunnyside and West Highland Ave. have appealed to the City to "do something" about a six-foot fence on the southwest corner of the intersection of those two streets.

Granted a zoning variance last week by the City Planning commission, the Methodist church is going forward now with plans to occupy by early fall the property in question at Michilinda and Sierra Madre Blvd.

Sierra Madre had one trophy winner in the Los Angeles City and County Soap Box Derby July 23 and all seven local entries gave a good accounting of themselves, according to their sponsors and fans.

Douglas Peterson, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson, 145 San Gabriel Ct., wheeled his shiny black racer, the Rambler, to a first place in his heat down Derby Hill last Thursday, but lost out in the next race. As a heat down winner he received a trophy to be companion to one he captured last year.

FIND OUT NOW IF YOU CAN ADD AIR CONDITIONING TO YOUR GAS FURNACE!!!

If your home has a forced air Gas furnace, you may already own half of a whole-house air conditioning system!

Remarkable, new units that add right on to existing Gas furnaces are now available.

Of course, not all homes can qualify. About one in five has a central furnace system adaptable to Gas air conditioning. Your home may be one of them.

What happens if your present Gas furnace is not suited to an add-on unit? You can replace it with a compact, year 'round Gas air conditioning system: one that both heats and cools. A variety of new models engineered for every type of installation is now available.

But whether you add to your Gas furnace or select a single, heating-cooling system, keep this in mind: Gas air conditioning is the finest you can own. It automatically drives out stale air, brings in fresh air, filters out dust, dirt, and pollen, wrings out excess humidity, then circulates sweet, clean air to every corner of the home.

You and your family can, at last, enjoy perfect indoor climate 365 days a year. You'll eat better, sleep better, feel better, and live better.

And because Gas air conditioning works without moving parts in the heating-cooling cycle, noise is cut to a minimum. A big source of wear and repair is eliminated. However, if adjustment or inspection is needed—it's yours free from Gas Company experts.

Don't fail to take advantage of this opportunity to get the full story on Gas air conditioning. Mail this coupon now.

Spending Can Be Cut!

Congress has ample opportunity in the budget requests still to be acted on to reduce federal spending enough to pay for tax cut which is being urged in growing volume to pep up the economy.

This was brought out in an appraisal of the progress of Congressional actions on money bills by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce. The report said: "If the Congress feels that taxes must be reduced soon but only if spending is also reduced, there is ample opportunity to do both by cutting the budget requests it has yet to consider."

Some of "the most likely areas for reduction" cited by the Council report include foreign aid, Rural Electrification funds, public works and new spending proposals.

The Council report labeled as "the myth of the 1930's" the idea that expanded government spending is the road to economic growth. It suggested it is "high time that Congress disassociate itself from the policy based on the myth."

It's Your Money!

Too often the citizen, preoccupied with making a living, does not take time to inform himself about his government. Yet history teaches that democracy survives only as long as the people take an active part in the making of governmental decisions.

One-third of the average citizen's income goes to pay various kinds of taxes. That makes government his biggest cost.

Businessmen who spend many sleepless nights trying to figure how to cut unit production costs by a fraction of a cent, or reduce overhead by a few dollars, are prone to ignore one of their greatest single cost factors — taxation.

Husbands and wives perspire and argue over family budgets but are unwilling to pay any attention to one item — government — which is now costing more than food, clothing and medical care, according to the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey of New York.

Once started on the path of growth, many government agencies are like Topsy — they just grow whether there is any reason or not.

Citizen interest in government is sorely needed now. Without a sound economy, and that means government on a solid financial base, we will pay a dear price.

The Value of a Drug!

What is a prescription drug worth — a drug which may save your life, restore you to health, or prevent a prolonged illness during which your earning power might be fully stopped?

No one can answer such a question with mathematical accuracy. And no layman has the knowledge that would enable him to make statistical breakdowns that show the cost of finding, developing, producing and distributing drugs.

But there are answers — important and powerful answers. For instance, a midwestern businessman recently wrote a letter to a senator who has been most critical of the pharmaceutical industry. In it he said: "On October 29, 1961 my wife was taken seriously ill . . . a gangrenous blocked intestine. I don't know whether the $82 worth of drugs she received cost $2 cents or $8,200 to produce, and I couldn't care less. The profits which the drug companies made financed the necessary research to develop drugs and equipment which saved my wife's life. I am getting very fed up with the attitude . . . that profits are criminal, sinful and should be eliminated . . . I hope that neither you nor I have our life span cut short by the lack of a drug which was not developed."

Drug research is costly — in money, time, energy, often disappointment. The risks of failure are inevitably great. The financially successful discoveries must carry the load of the failures. Otherwise, progress must end — and an appalling human waste must follow.

Royal Thievery!

The wave of opposition which greeted the proposal to levy a 20 per cent withholding tax against income from dividends and interest was, it would seem, far greater in intensity and volume than the Administration expected. There is good reason why that should be so.

The objections are unusually varied. For one thing, this is not a new tax, but a complicated and costly method of collecting taxes which in multitudes of cases are not owed in the first place. The principal burden would fall in the lower income tax brackets, where the effective income tax rate is far below 20 per cent.

Obtaining refunds for overpayment is a time-consuming process. Meanwhile, the government would have taken — long ahead of due date — funds which otherwise could have been deposited or invested, and brought income to their owners. Investment objectives established for the education of children, retirement and other goals would thus be undermined.

Great numbers of people — many in the low brackets — reinvest dividends and leave interest on savings deposit intact so that they will produce more interest. But, should the bill pass, 20 per cent of such income would be taken in advance, and these people would suffer accordingly.

There are ways — sound ways — to deal with tax evasion. The new electronic processing machines the Internal Revenue Service is installing constitute one. Another is a step-up in the Treasury's tax educational campaign. A third is for the service to make better use of the huge resources of information and manpower it now possesses. It is not necessary to penalize the many because of the failure or dishonesty of the few.

All Time High Record Set

An all time high for individual copy sales on the newsstands of the Sierra Madre News was noted this week by Leo Sharp in charge of distribution.

Leo reports that during the month of July newsstand and counter sales of the News is running in excess of 1,000 copies per week.

Management is certainly encouraged by these figures and wishes to call this to the attention of advertisers as well. More people are now reading the News than have ever read it before.

CARROT TOP

"One in every six employees in the United States is a government worker" ... now this put me to thinking ... so ... one and a half of them is a government worker ... wonder which one it is, and who the guy is that is on the fence, half and half ... of course, I know that like every other person in business, I work the first four or five months for Uncle Sam ... but I don't think it counts me, this I believe is in addition ... I guess we'll have to do a little more screening of employees.

Speaking of screening ... it is getting about time for the flies in this area to start their yearly "screen test" ... they are around here like a bunch of convention delegates and about as annoying.

In re-reading the above statement, I found that my fingers on the typewriter keyboard had birthed an appropriate and new word: "Government" must change this ... it's appropriate, but an old story.

In closing this week's column we would like to leave you with this thought, "all people, regardless of race, creed, or affiliation smile in the same language" ... Let's do more of it all the time — I'll be seeing you around, I hope, I hope, I hope.

'The Mountain of Decision' Is Sunday Sermon

"The Mountain of Decision" will be Rev. Armin Hesse's Sunday morning theme in the 8 and 10:30 Sunday morning worship services at Faith Lutheran Church, 835 Hastings Ranch Drive.

This message will be the last in his current summer series entitled "We Go to the Mountains." It will take the worshippers to Mount Carmel and portray with practical application a decisive event associated with the life of the Prophet Elijah.

Holy Communion will be celebrated in the 10:30 service. The Sunday School departments, meeting at 9:15, will consider the Scriptural account of "Abram and Lot," according to Genesis 13 and 14.

The daily sessions of the Children's Vacation Bible School will be held from 9 to 11:30, during the period of August 27 to September 7. Children from elementary kindergarten age through eighth grade will be eligible to enroll.

AND OTHERS — Take the profit out of war? — that's exactly what the profiteers did in the last one.

Time must be money — otherwise people without money couldn't buy everything on time.

Pat yourself on the back too often and your best friends will see to it that you have plenty of elbow room.

A man may be judged for what he stands for, but it's what he falls for that really counts.

From what I overheard, I reckon it's a toss up — because the evidence seems to be evenly divided.

Mean to Husbands

Heard a couple of fellows discussing their wisdom of married life. "In some communities where I've lived, the women were mean to their husbands," said one, "though in other communities the men were mean to their wives. And as is usually the case, friends of the wives think the hubby is an ogre — while the friends of the hubby believe the wives possess absolutely no talent other than to make life as miserable as possible."

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Handwritten in her recent book "Gutson Borglum, Artist and Patriot," the author Willard Price said this, "Inscribed for Charles Baker friend and associate of Gutson Borglum with the sincere hope my story may bring remembrances of early Sierra Madre."

Charles Baker received this last week. He is now living with his step daughter Marian D. Snaw at 271 N. Lima St. He was with the newly married Borglums in 1890 for four years when he cared for their property and studio-home during their first trip to Europe and meeting them at the Santa Anita station on their return with tons of baggage, four great Dane dogs and a Spanish servant who soon disappeared leaving Mr. Baker to take over caring for the dogs, modeling for Borglum and delivering paintings bought by a wealthy art patron in Alhambra but experienced Borglum's ever present lack of ready money.

Mr. Baker took a model of an eagle, modeled in the Sierra Madre studio, ordered by General Harrison Gray Otis, editor and owner of the Los Angeles Times. He remembers the completed eagle seven feet wing spread atop the turret of the Times new building.

Major Andrews and his Union raiders boldly stole the General from a Chattanooga-bound train for an errand of destruction to General Lee's railroad supply line. They almost succeeded to shorten the desperate conflict two years. Heavy traffic and conductor Fuller's determined pursuit on the kettles TEXAS thwarted the raid.

For many hours the fate of the Confederacy rested on two locomotives manned by small groups of determined men. The military importance of railway supply lines was convincingly demonstrated. If further proof is needed, the performance of our modern railroads in two world wars supplied it.

Today, our railways are being recklessly mutilated by political promotion of non-rail luxury transport. This could result in a disastrous Apoptosis in the world war of subversion — unless Congress promptly enacts the recommendations of President Kennedy's inspired transportation message.

Very respectfully,
K. FRITZ SCHUMACHER

Buying A Goat To Send To Korea

"The Rim of East Asia" will be the theme of the Sierra Madre Congregational Church Daily Vacation Church School. The students will study the christian influence as well as the cultural background of Korea, Okinawa, Hong Kong and Taiwan.

Studying of these countries is not all that is accomplished. The children have a special project of using their offering money to buy a goat to send to Korea through the Heifer Project. When an animal is sent through this Project the family receiving it must qualify by having had proper training for the animal such as knowing its proper diet and daily care. This family must also agree that the first offspring of the animal goes to another needy family who also must have taken the proper training before they can receive it. The children are encouraged to do odd jobs around the home and their neighborhood to earn money to contribute personally to the gift of buying a goat to send to Korea.

The church school will begin this coming Monday, August 6 through August 17. The hours will be 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Registration fee will be $1 to defray cost of equipment used. Younger children are asked to bring notes from home stating name, address, age and telephone number. All children going into kindergarten this year through high school are invited.

The goat pictured above is owned by the Irving Goulard family of Arcadia. Only last year another goat they owned was sent to Korea through the Heifer Project sponsored by the Presbyterian church. The Vacation Church School staff include: pre-kindergarten, Joyce Penrose, Marj Golden; kindergarten, Evelyn Stoddard, Maureen Coyle; primary, Lela George, Ann Gurule; lower juniors, Mary Link, Rosemary Abernethy, Linda Reavis; juniors, Velma Embree, Arlene Decker; crafts lower, Billie Stine, Ann Hukill, Lorene Thomas, Ruth Brown, 2nd week, Phyllis Foster, 1st week, Margaret Pedigo. Also, crafts upper, Marj Lindsay, Darlene Erbach, Elsie Uyematsu, Pat Mihalovic, Licia Fox, Janine Berkshire; kitchen, Anna Bly Couchman, Lucile Pickett; nursery, Carol Watson;

PLUMBING REPAIRS A SPECIALTY

Small Factory Building Converted to Art Studio

by Stephan Attikisson

At 47 E. Montecito stands a small, converted factory building ornamented on the outside by modern sculptures and with a small sign on the building, not visible to the passing motorist, announcing itself as the "Lopez Gallery."

Since its debut as an art gallery 15 months ago, people from all over this area, and even some from San Francisco and San Diego, have gone there to see the art exhibits featuring works of Gertrude Stekel (whose father, Wilhelm Stekel, worked with Freud), Dora De Larios, Robert Gore, Ray Freeze, Henry Miller (controversial author of "Tropic of Cancer"), and other artists and sculptors.

Building Bought

It is owned by Ramon Lopez, who discovered the building when he was working as a sculptor for Sierra Engineering on a special project.

At that time, recalls Lopez, it was a run-down, unattractive, and uninteresting building — a far cry from an art gallery.

Then Lopez bought it, put in windows, put in a door which used to belong to a church, knocked out a section of the wooden wall and put bricks in, and made changes to the outside. Then on the inside, he put in carpeting, did much painting, and completely remodeled.

Teaches Classes

Besides running the gallery, Lopez also teaches painting, sculpture, and drawing to "many different kinds of students"; students with a vast background in art and students with little or no background in art, students to whom is a mere hobby and students to whom art is something to be taken with intense seriousness.

Lopez doesn't limit his teaching to just his favorite type of art, which is modern, but instead teaches the type of art his pupil "wants to learn."

The classes are small, says Lopez, which enables him to give individual attention to each student.

Studied Art

Though an artist since childhood, Lopez's first formal course in art wasn't until he was in high school.

Later, Lopez went into the service, still managing to find time to do some painting.

When he came out of the service, he was awarded a scholarship, and he went to USC where he graduated in 1959 with a degree in fine arts. While there, he studied the various fields of art under some of the most prominent men in those fields.

Gallery Opened

In April of 1961, he opened the gallery. Since then, he has had what he terms "remarkable success" for the short time the gallery has been open.

Lopez stated one of the

Letters to the Editor

26 July 1962
Dear Editor:
May I begin by extending to you and to Mrs. Evans a warm welcome to our fair city.

The change in ownership of the Sierra Madre News was of great concern to me, and I am sure to many other citizens of our town, and the local area. At this writing, however, I feel quite certain that any fears I may have had were quite groundless.

In my opinion, any local newspaper has the obligation to offer to its readers a truthful presentation of all of the facts, when issues affecting the general public are evident.

I was present at the last meeting of the City Council on July 24, 1962, and was pleased to find your report of the proceedings to be concise and factual.

In order that more of the citizens of Sierra Madre take an active part in the administration of the local government, and lend either their support or opposition to matters that affect us all, I would offer the following proposal: That the agenda for both the City Council and the Planning Commission be published in the Sierra Madre News the week preceding the meeting.

It is just possible that some of the apathy which seems to be a national disgrace, may be overcome in our town and, God willing, be the start of a grass roots movement to return to a government of, by, and for the people.

I extend congratulations to Jessica Stowell and Cindy Stornie, and above all, to their parents. Shame, shame, Mr. Levy.

Also congrats to you, C. T., on the proposition 1-A matter. How often must me say NO?

Thankfully,

—T. C. LODGE

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your cooperation and help in making the 47th Annual Sierra Madre Dodge Day the success it was. Just one article in your paper was enough to cause the tickets to be sold out in one day. That's good coverage. In the past two years we were very lucky to fill one bus of baseball fans. This year we have enough for three bus loads and by the number of additional people who wanted tickets, we could have filled three more buses.

I believe next year the annual trek to the game will be an even greater community success. Because of the city's past participation in the Dodge Community Games, I am sure we will receive better locations and dates for the games we are all interested in seeing.

If there is enough interest shown to have an Angel game, we may plan on this next year also.

Thank you again.

Many Now Available*Trees On A Grand Scale Add Lawn Beauty

In an age when most subdividers think small, the use of towering tree specimens is less a common practice, yet the simple fact remains that nothing lends more beauty to our landscapes. Trees on a grand scale add stature and permanence to a neighborhood. They are landmarks of our skyline, and many's the new development whose finest attraction is a venerable specimen of oaks or eucalyptus which the bulldozers have mercifully by-passed.

Large trees are especially desirable when summer temperatures mount. Any roadway which is lined with a canopy of branches seems an oasis to the summer traveler. Likewise, the backyard which shades its occupants from high-summer sun can be the most pleasant one.

Perhaps the grand-scale trees which are suitable for most home grounds is the evergreen Southern Magnolia. California Association of Nurserymen Members offer two versions of this — the regular size and a smaller size, otherwise known as the St. Mary's Magnolia. Both feature the gigantic white blossoms, the large glossy leaves, and the opulence that only magnolias can offer. Yet, the newer St. Mary's variety is essentially a small to medium tree (albeit an excellent one) and only the Southern Magnolia will grow in time to that singular magnificence poets have praised.

It is claimed for Southern Magnolia in its native states that the fragrant white flowers are up to six or eight inches across. Here in California the latter dimension is more common, and even larger blossoms are to be found. Blooms of the St. Mary's Magnolia are not uncommonly a foot in diameter.

Southern Magnolia is slow to start, but gains size in a hurry once it has settled down to business. In selecting specimens at C.A.N. nurseries, remember that years of growth can be saved by choosing the larger trees. Give the Magnolias a deep, well-drained soil and don't crowd buildings with them. Older specimens can be shaped by pruning, but it's usually a job for the arborist.

Another family of trees that contributes stature to our gardens is the oak family. The gardener who has been fortunate enough to build his home in a grove of oak is the lucky one, for he can enjoy at once the pleasures that others will have to wait years for.

The oak is generally slow of growth, but once past its first years, the pace is stepped up. Oaks grow old gracefully, and their ultimate form at maturity is far more beautiful than that of the young tree. Family favorites are the California Live Oak, the Holly Oak and the Valley Oak. The first two are evergreen, while the latter is deciduous. Live Oak and Holly Oak seem better adapted to coastal conditions than the Valley Oak, while all of them take readily to inland conditions.

Other than Magnolias and Oaks, there are several trees which make their presence known on the skyline and shade us with their branches in warm weather. The Moraine Locust is a fast-growing, deciduous tree that reverses the normal procedure of starting slowly. Moraine Locust and the newer Sunburst Locust gain height in a hurry, then slow down to a long, useful life. In fall the leaves of these graceful tall trees turn a bright yellow.

Two other distinctive trees for the home grounds are Camphor Tree and Modesto Ash. These gain the grand scale in their spread as much as in their height, although either will attain 40 feet or more in time. One advantage of these two lies in their suitability for street planting, which means that they can be used to add stature to whole neighborhoods, however small the individual lots may be.

Waiting for any tree to reach maturity and to yield its full pleasures may tax the patience of some gardeners, but if you stop to think that what you plant will be giving pleasure to future generations, then the wait takes on a certain quality of dedication. Knowing that you plant for posterity is some satisfaction in itself.

Experience may be a thorough teacher, but it is a mighty slow way to acquire an education.
